

A Governor visits the Year 5 and 6 Art Exhibition June 2017.

When governor Emma Rees was invited to school to see the artwork by our oldest pupils she wasn't prepared for the range of techniques on show or for the confidence our pupils demonstrated when talking to adults about their work.

Emma commented:

"I've just been along to the art show. I'm so impressed with the standard and the variety of the children's work. I was shown round by a young lady who knew the ideas of shading, light & dark, aspect & perspective- all techniques I didn't come across until senior school art. The children were all so confident when discussing their art too."

Governor Emma Rees spent an afternoon viewing the art sketchbooks and final works by our oldest pupils.
